A Texas Courthouse.—If what the Bezona Planter says about the Courthouse in that County be true, we congratulate Judges, lawyers, cli nts, witnesses and losiers there, at their unexampled good fortune. It would seem that the outer doors of this temple of justice are unhung, the windows swing on their carols and bang about with every gust of wind; there is no ceiling; the rain pours in 'torrents through the root; there are neither chimneys nor stove; and the public hogs make their beds beneath the building.—Shades of Coke and Blackstone!

Wednesday, Jan. 14-6 P. M. The tendency of prices is still upwards. Norwich and Worcester went up 1½ per cent; Reading Railroad, 1; Farmers' Loan 1; Long Island 1½; Harlem 1; Canton 1. Pennsylvania fives fell off ½ per cent; Kentucky

Quotations for foreign exchange are steadily declin-ing. The demand for sterling bills is very limited.— Prime bills on London we quote at 8½ a 8½ per cent pre-mium: on Paris, 56.27½ a 56.26½; Amsterdam, 39½ a 39½; Hamburg, 35½ a 35½; Bremen, 78½ a 78½.

The receipts of the Hartford and New Haven Railroad

Company, for the month of December, in the past two years, have been as follows:

HARTFORD AND NEW HAVEN RAILROAD.

Receipts for December, 1844. $14,133 7.

Do. 1945. 19,635 2:

The address of Gov. Briggs, of Massachusetts, to both houses of the Legislature of that State, briefly reviews the gnances of the Commonwealth. The receipts into the Treasury for the past year amounted to $519,358 32 Expenditures for the same period...... 550,191 59

Excess of expenditures over receipts. $30,833 27 In the receipts given above, are included the balance in the Treasury on the 1st of January, 1845, $10,677 59, and the balance of State tax of 1844, $62,325 50, which, the ordinary receipts for the year.

The expenditures for the year include the temporary

Areasurer will have the balance of the State lay of 1945, amounting to $65,000, and though not payable till February, 1846, was designed for the service of 1845. That sum will not only pay the above named balance but will be nearly sufficient to pay the $37,140 of the 5 per cent stock of 1842, which falls due in 1846.

When the remaining $37,140 of the debt of 1842 shall have been paid, no other debt against the State will fal due before 1857. At that time the scrip for $995,000, isweed by the State in payment of its stock in the Western Railroad corporation, will be payable.—
The sinking fund set apart to meet that debt, now amounts to $359,141 25. This sum, with the accruing annual interest, together with the yearly amount from the sales of the public lands, in the State of Maine, which is appropriated by law for the same purpose, with the annual interest thereon, will amount in 1867, with ous railread companies to the amount of $5,049,565 &c.

One million and fifty thousand dollars of this amount for scrip loaned to the Eastern Railroad, the Norwich and Worcester Railroad, the Andover and Haverhill Rail will be due in 1857-9, none of the residue falls due before 1869. The payment and fulfilment of the obligations o the bonds, which is the state of the indebted roads in addition to the mortgage on the Western Railroad, the State holds in trust, a fund, now amounting to $290,-610 61, and which is yearly increasing, by accumulating interest and additions to the principal, for the same pur pose. These railroads are in active operation, and are an-nually increasing in value and in productiveness. There are seven hundred miles of railroads in Massachusetts, doing a successful business, costing about $28,000,000. The average value of the whole stock is above par, and

The receipts of the great trunk line running the entire length of the State, and connecting Boston with Albany in 1845, compared with 1844, show an increase of more in 1945, compared with 1944, show an increase of more than ten per cent, which places the permanent productiveness of the road beyond a contingency. This line is still in its infancy; lateral roads are in contemplation that will, in time, if constructed, increase its receipts two fold, and double its dividends. The Massachusetts Western Road must be immensely benefitted by any connection made with this city at any internal point, as it must tion made with this city at any internal point, as it must-by such an event, receive a large per cent of the travel by railroad between this city and Boston.

The union of the Worcester and Western Railroad Companies is a matter of much doubt. The terms pro-posed are not considered by the stockholders of the Worcester a sufficient inducement. The president of the Worcester road, in his report, says, that to consoli-

the Worcester road, in his report, says, that to consolidate the stocks of the two corporations, on a valuation which assumes that six shares in the Western road are equal to five in the Boston and Worcester, would be doing great injustice to the stockholders in the latter.

A pamphlat has been published by the Worcester road to enlighten its stockholders as to its own and the Western road finances. By this it appears the latter has cost $7,764.90s, and its aggregate funds realized $7,791,794. The sinking funds on the first of December were $410.371, and its debt on Massachusetts sterling bonds £999.900, which the president very erroneously costs at $4 44, making $3,999,656, when in fact it should have been put at $4 80. The corporation owes $158,086, and there is due to it $205,482, mostly cash, or in hands of transportation agent. The last year its receipts were $310,000 and its "expenses about $365,000," the latter much above expectation, and the stock falling in consequence. The Worcester road appears to owe $309,999 for expenditures on new branches, purchases of land, new buildings, &c., and estimates $175,000 of saleable land can be applied to reduction of that debt. Its whole cost to last date, Acc, and estimates $175,000 of saleable land can be appli-ed to reduction of that debt. Its whole cost to last date, $2,995,643, and a double track, nearly all of heavy reil, for 44$, besides branches, &c., responds to that total. The receipts of year ending December 1st, 1845, were $504,-458, and the expenses $267,848, being a net income of $236,600, or a fraction over 8 per cent on its paid up ca-

$336,600, or a fraction over 8 per cent on its paid up capital.

The report of the Fitchburg Railroad Company shows that the gross receipts of the past year were $196,001—of which $97,344 were from passengers, $95,500 from freight, and $3,076 from rents, mails, &c., and the running expenses, repairs, &c., were $78,475—leaving the net receipts, from all sources, $122,036. From this net revenue, dividends for the year ending January 21, 1846, amounting to nine per cent, have been declared, leaving a surplus (estimating the receipts for January, 1845,) of $11,500. This road is forty-five miles long, and cost $1,335,000—single track—and has been open its entire length but about twelve months. It is, without doubt, the cheapest read in New England, with prospects for an increase of business more flattering than any in the country—with one exception, and that is the New York, Harlem and Albany Railroad, now in the course of construction. We annex a statement comparing these two roads, for the purpose of placing them in a position to ment at once the eye of the capitalist seeking investment for his finds:—

fayorable to the Harlem as it would be six meants beace, latter the extension takes place, as the Harlem will then be double its present length, at very little comparative additional cost. The gross and not receipts of the Harlem in 1846, will exceed those of the Fitchburg, as much as those of the Fitchburg now exceed those of the Harlem. The prospects of the Harlem are more favorable than those of the Fitchburg, and it will, in a very short time, be a more profitable stock, particularly to those who come in as stockholders at present prices. The stock of the Fitchburg is selling at thirty-one per cent advance on one hundred dollar shares, and that of the Harlem at fitty-five per cent discount on one hundred dollar shares. This makes a difference of eighty-six per cent in the market value of the shares. There must be some great mistake somewhere, and it cannot be in the Fitchburg, as a nine per cent stock is worth about thirty per cent advance. It must be in the market price of the Harlem, and we predict that this will be the last time this stock will go so far below its real value. After the present panic has subsided, and the money market becomes once more easy, prices must steadily advance, until the stock becomes sought for as investments. The recent depreciation in prices will cause large lots to change hands, and it will not hereafter be used so much for speculative purposes as it has been.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE BY THE MAILS.

Important from Washington. Our information from Washington is singular and contradictory. One says that the "notice will never be given"-another says that it will. Which are we to believe !

WASHINGTON, Monday Evening. The Real Position of Mr. Polk and Parties. You will see by the report of the proceedings in the Senate to-day, that they are not without significance.

There is much more in this postponement than is dreamt of in the philosophy of the unsuspecting ultra democracy. Haywood, of N. C., who opposed Allen, and contended for the postponement of the discussion on the merits of the question, is shrewdly suspected to be the mouth-piece, in this case, of the Executive. I told you that Polk feels nervous about the course events have been latterly taking; and in accordance with his Machiavelian policy. and in accordance with his Machiavelian policy, he desired now to kill off Allen, Cass, and the violent men, by a counter movement. The whole policy of the administration, thus far, has been actuated by a charitable desire to drive the prominent actions into a zealous rivalry, in knocking out each other's brains; and you may depend upon it that the grand effort now is to set the war and anti-war sections of the democracy by the ears—the Executive, in the meantime, cautiously averting the danger of war—getting all the credit of extraordinary patriotism, and extraordinary love of peace, at one and the same time.

One object of exciting the war fever has been to throw more patronage into the hands of James K. Polk. Additional frigates are to be built—steamers are to be constructed—a regiment of riffemen is to be raised. All this creates additional patronage.

The notice will never pass the Senate. It will be carried in the House by a large majority; but it is safe in the Senate, and the administration plays its cards accordingly.

Depend upon it, Polk is a Tallyrand in a small way—a very small way. He has old heads to deal with, and all his wits may be insufficient to carry him through safely.

The whigs are playing a sagacious game. They are getting all the credit of patriotism, and incur none of the risk.

J. Q. Adams is wise in his generation.

Why don't the Celhoun men take broadly and decidedly, the ground that they are the 54 men?—that delay is the true course to secure the whole of Oregon—that precipitancy is the way to produce a recurrence to 49, or something worse? The idea of a war is preposterous—there is not the alightest danger of that. When Mr. McLane leaves Lendon, then we may fear gunpowder. But why does he remain ? Why was his nomination sent in the other day, and confirmed? Is he merely playing the minuster? I trow not.

By and by, may we not see a treaty proposed—a treaty giving to Great Britain certain commercial advantages in the United States, in exchange for yielding up of certain other comm he desired now to kill off Allen, Cass, and the vio-

The "Doctor," in his letter of the 10th inst., alluding to certain charges of collusion between Mr. Pakenham and Mr. Calhoun, upon the Oregon question, on the part of Preston King, and of the writer of an article in your number of the 6th inst. whom he denominates his "coadjutor," under the state of the control of the control of the state whom he denominates his "coadjutor," undertakes to contradict these statements by "authority." It was to be presumed that Mr. Calhoun and friends would feel chagrined at the appearance of the facts stated in my communication, particularly at such a period of political excitement as this, and when the whole country is looking upon and watching his every movement. For my part, I have no deare to injure the reputation of Mr. Calhoun, or that of any other public man, with or without cause; nor would I state a single circumstance for which I had not had the most irrefragible testimony to sustain me before making it, in relation to him, or any one else. This it is necessary to understand, before I refer to the charges objected to by Mr. Calhoun's friends, and which the "Doctor" has been induced by them to qualify.

refer to the charges objected to by Mr. Calhoun friends, and which the "Doctor" has been induced by them to qualify.

Now, sir, what did I st.te that has been either denied or qualified? First—I said that Mr. Calhoun received a note from Mr. Pakenham, by Mr. Bidwell, his private secretary, on the evening of the day that Mr. Calhoun opposed Mr. Hannegan's resolutions. Is that denied by the "Doctor?" No—for it cannot be. Neither Mr. Calhoun nor his friends will do it. The second charge, of being in "close fellowship" with Mr. Pakenham, has not been denied by the "Doctor," but confirmed; by his admission that "Mr. Calhoun had met Mr. Pakenham at the table of a third party on one or two occasions, at which neither Texas or Oregon were alluded to." I care not at whose table they met "on one or two occasions;" they met there for some object besides eating; for it is not the custom among leading politicians here to meet in this manner without the intention of discussing some topic of a public nature, where it would not be safe to do it in another manner.

Thirdly, But, that I did not make the charge.

JOSEPH KAMEREYS MUSIC TO STATE OF THE CONTRACT OF THE CONTR manner.
Thirdly. But, that I did not make the charge that Mr. Calhoun dined on Saturday evening last with Mr. Pakenham, upon light or trivial grounds, I have to say that the note above named, as I understood then, was an invitation to dinner; that
